

WILL BE RETURNED TO CAMP TAYLOR

Albert Winkler Who Was Arrested for Forgery Will be Turned Over to Army Officials.

MORE FORGED CHECKS FOUND

Wore Soldier Uniform Which Aided Him in Cashing the Fraudulent Drafts.

Albert Winkler, a private in the National army stationed at Camp Taylor will be returned to his company where he will face charges for leaving without permission from the proper officials and probably a charge of desertion will be lodged against him. Chief of Police Charles Wallace notified the army officials Wednesday evening that Winkler had been arrested here charged with forgery and would be held until army officers could send here after him. He was informed an agent would be sent here today to return Winkler but up until 3:30 this afternoon he had failed to arrive.

According to Winkler he had been away from the army camp ten days at midnight Thursday. However, Sheriff H. L. McCord stated today that inquiries had been made of him concerning Winkler and asked that he encourage him to return by midnight tonight, after which time he will be charged with desertion.

Three more checks that were forged by Winkler were turned over to the police today. All of the checks bore the forged signature of W. P. Masters and each was made payable to Earl Malcome. One of the checks for $24.65 was cashed by Winkler at the Seymour National Bank several days ago. Charles Hardin, agent at the local traction station cashed one of the checks which was for $10 and E. F. Maxon, druggist, cashed one for $10. Winkler admitted having forged the checks made payable to Earl Malcome and stated that it was the name of a man he formerly worked with. Winkler said this morning that he secured the blank checks which he forged and cashed, from local business houses.

Winkler's success in having the checks cashed is due to the fact that he was wearing a soldier's uniform and the persons who gave him the money were naturally inclined to believe that if he was a United States soldier he would not likely by trying to get away with a crooked deal that would eventually get him in trouble.

The police are inclined to believe that there are other checks forged by Winkler that have not turned up as yet. After admitting his guilt to having forged the first four checks, Winkler stoutly denied having passed more checks but the finding of three today has caused the officers to doubt his stories. His father, Edward Winkler, yesterday made the checks forged by his son good. It is not known whether he will come to his rescue for the amount received on the forged checks that were found today, as he was lead to believe by his son that the first four checks were all that he had passed.

MANY FIGURES PRESENTED IN WATER CASE HEARING

Expected That Testimony Will be Completed by Tomorrow—Valuation in Question.

Special to Seymour Republican. Indianapolis, December 7—A maze of figures have been presented in the testimony by engineers who have testified before Judge Corr of the Indiana Public Service Commission, in the case of the City of Seymour against the Seymour Water Company. The petitioner seeks lower rates. The hearing which was opened Wednesday may be concluded sometime tomorrow. At noon today there was little indication that the hearing would be completed today.

The city's witnesses were placed on stand to testify when the hearing was resumed today. The question before the question is regarding the valuation of the company's property as the rates which are fixed will be based upon that valuation. The city is endeavoring to show that the valuation contained in the report of the commission's engineer is too high and the company will try to show that several items have been omitted in the commission's report and that other estimates are too low.

The case is being contested at every point by both the city and the company. When the hearing is completed the commission will take the evidence and reports under advisement and a decision may not be forthcoming for two weeks. However, it is expected that the case will be entirely settled not later than the first of the coming year.

NEW EQUIPMENT PURCHASED FOR THE CITY LIBRARY

Handsome Table Containing Section for the Card Index Installed in Library Here.

A number of improvements have been made at the City Library recently which add not only to the appearance of the room but will also serve for the better accommodation of the patrons. A new table has been purchased which is constructed especially for public library purposes.

Included as a part of the table is a disappearing section for the card catalogue system by which a record of all books that leave the library is kept. Heretofore the cards have been filed in a separate case which was very inconvenient. With the new equipment the cards are kept conveniently at the right of the librarian.

The circulation of the local library continues to increase steadily. The war has resulted in the circulation of a large number of books that deal with the world struggle, the causes that produced it and the readjustment that must come with the restoration of peace. The library board is endeavoring to supply such books that are desired by the patrons as far as the funds will permit.

REGISTRATION UNDER NEW DRAFT LAW IS IMPERATIVE

Failure Means Immediate Transfer Into Unit for Service at the Front.

The new regulations under the selective draft law will deal even more harshly with the man who refuses to register and who compels the authorities to indict and convict him, as his right to a chance at the master list is taken from him.

The new regulation provides: "Whenever a person who has been convicted of failing to register under the terms of the selective-service law has subsequently been registered as provided by section 5 of that law, his registration cards shall not be forwarded to the adjutant general of the State for assignment of a serial number. The local board which has jurisdiction of the registration card of any such person shall assign him an order number having a letter attached which will insure his being immediately inducted into military service and shall inquire into his status and cause him to be physically examined. Unless upon such physical examination he is classified in Class V, or unless he is required by the selective-service law to be exempted from military service, he shall be immediately inducted into military service and sent to a mobilization camp.

"This provision shall also apply in cases where sentence has been suspended on condition that the person who has heretofore failed to register be at once called for military duty by the local board having jurisdiction."

HOLIDAY SPIRIT IS MANIFEST HERE

Stores are Made Attractive with Unique Decorations Appropriate to Christmas.

HOLIDAY SHOPPING HAS BEGUN

Business Houses Have Never Had on Display a Bigger Showing of Goods of All Lines.

Only fourteen more shopping days until Christmas.

That means that the next two weeks will be extremely busy ones for the people of Seymour and the vicinity. The holiday season is not only a season of good will, but is the gift season of the year. The custom of presenting gifts as tokens of friendship is an ancient one and will be followed this year as never before. There seems to be a desire among the people of the city to make this Christmas as full of happiness for their friends as they possibly can despite the conditions which tend to interfere with the happiness that has been enjoyed in the past years.

The distribution of gifts this year will be more extended than in former years as many families whose sons and brothers have gone to the front, are to be remembered by friends who want them to have their full share of Yuletide joy.

Christmas is always the busiest shopping season of the entire year. This year promises to set a new record if the early buying can be taken as an indication. There probably has never been a time in the

WAR EMERGENCY FREIGHT RATE EFFECTIVE IN STATE

New Rates Similar to Those Recently Granted by Interstate Commission.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, December 7—A war emergency freight rate effective for one year on all railroads in Indiana was put into effect by the public service commission today. The new rates are similar to those recently ordered by the interstate commission for interstate traffic. The new rates are identical with those asked by the carriers. The new rate for 100 pounds for ten miles is 8.5 cents. It formerly varied from 7.5 to 25 cents.

In tabulating the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth class freight rates the commission used the same percentages as the interstate commerce commission. Second class rates are 85 percent. of the first; third 67 percent; fourth, 50 percent; fifth, 35 percent. and sixth, 25 percent.

"The proposed new system of rates is designed primarily for the purpose of yielding the carriers greater revenue and for the further purpose of removal inequalities and inconsistencies that exist in the present schedule," the order read.

RUSSIANS FACE A SHORTAGE OF FOOD

Letter From Edwin O. Heuser in Petrograd Describes Conditions There.

BREAD TICKET EXPERIENCE

Ordinary Cake of "Rotten" Chocolate Costs Sixty Cents in the Russian Capital.

A letter which was written by Edwin O. Heuser, who is in Petrograd, to Serg. C. R. Switzer, at Camp Crook has been returned to this city and gives an inside view of conditions in Russia. The letter was written in August and doubtless conditions have become much worse there since that time. The scarcity of food seems to be the greatest source of concern. Mr. Heuser was formerly cashier at the First National Bank and resigned that position to become foreign representative in Petrograd for the New York City National Bank.

After briefly describing his trip from Stockholm, Mr. Heuser dwelt

SOLDIER ARRESTED HERE RETURNED TO CAMP SHELBY

Was Recently Married to Local Woman, According to Information Given Officials.

Troubles do not come singly for Sgt. Horace Boyd, of Co. D, 129th Indiana Field Artillery Hattiesburg, Miss. He is now in the custody of military authorities at Louisville and according to his own statement he is in addition a married man.

Acting on information furnished him yesterday, Sheriff Matt Shaw detailed his deputy, Ebert Shaw, to go to Seymour where it was learned that Boyd and Private Norris, another member of the troops at Camp Shelby were located. Although first resenting being taken into custody by a mere county officer, Boyd accompanied Shaw to this city and later to Louisville, where he was turned over to U. S. army officials.

The date and circumstances of Boyd's alleged marriage are not clear as he is said to have advised that it took place at Jeffersonville early in the week on one occasion and afterward stated that he became a groom at Seymour on Wednesday night. Incidentally Boyd insisted that he is not a deserter from Camp Shelby, although a message from an officer of his company indicated otherwise.

Frank P. Boyd, father of Sgt. Boyd, received a card from his son yesterday morning. In the message to his father Boyd asserted that he was not absent from duty without permission and that he was on his way back to Hattiesburg. When arrested at Seymour yesterday Boyd had purchased tickets for Louisville for himself and party, which included a woman named Gussie Smith, whom Boyd said was his wife.

In a message to Frank P. Boyd, regarding his son, Capt. Don Essex advised that Sgt. Boyd was absent without leave and that other charges had been placed against him. Deputy Shaw, on order from Hattiesburg, took Boyd to Louisville, despite the assertion of Boyd's relatives that the young man will not face charges of desertion.—Columbus Ledger.

HALIFAX A CITY OF DESOLATION

Police Estimate at Least 2,000 People Lost Their Lives in Explosion and Fire.

By United Press.

Halifax, December 7.—Estimates of the number of dead and injured as the result of the terrific explosion that followed the collision between the munitions ship Mt. Blanc and the steamer Imo continued to grow today. Some progress is being made in relief work but estimates of the dead are as yet based on fragmentary reports. These estimates range from 500 to 2,000.

North Halifax is a vast funeral pyre. Many bodies are incinerated in the burning ruins of this city of desolation and woe. Snow is mantling with a cloak of white great areas where the flames have swept, hiding unknown horrors beneath. Hospitals are crowded with moaning wounded. The dead lie in ghastly ranks. A bitter wind is sweeping through shattered windows of ruined houses. The police estimate of 2,000 dead is the latest statement of the death toll. An equal number of seriously injured are being carried for amid scenes that beggar description.

Here and there about the smoking ruins of what had been their home, men and women, scantily dressed and with bloodshot eyes, clawed at the wreckage in hope of finding relatives. Many of the injured are dying. The police are trying to round up children who wander through the wreckage calling for their relatives.

Even worst conditions than exist in Halifax have turned North Dartmouth, across the bay, into a place of death and suffering.

The most badly damaged section of Halifax is shut off by guards. Navy yard magazines have been flooded to prevent more explosions.

Special trains bringing clothing, food and other needed supplies arrived here this morning from St. John. Mayor Hays and the majority of surgeons from St. John have also arrived. Canadian soldiers and sailors worked side by side gathering the dead and preserving order in Halifax.

Immediately after the explosion, while dense clouds of white smoke were rolling over the scene of devastation, the Canadian soldiers formed in ranks, each man ready to do his duty. Some were bleeding from wounds.

NO OBJECTION IN SENATE TO NEW WAR RESOLUTION

House Expected to Approve Senate's Action—LaFollette Absent During Roll Call.

By United Press.

Washington, December 7.—The senate this afternoon unanimously passed the resolution declaring a state of war against Austria Hungary.

With the senate's approval of the resolution it was certain that the house late this afternoon would take the same action. Senator LaFollette absented himself when the roll call was begun. The vote followed stirring speeches by Senators Stone, Lodge and Hitchcock. Senator Hitchcock said his objection to a declaration against Austria had been cleared away by President Wilson's stand, assuring Austria free access to the Adriatic.

BRITISH PREPARES FOR GERMAN BLOW

What May be Germany's Final Offensive in War May be Struck in Short Time.

BYNG RETIRES FROM BOURLON

Teutons Reach Zenith of Military Power With Release of Troops on Eastern Front.

By United Press.

With the British Armies, December 7.—The British army expects Germany's biggest and perhaps its final efforts of the war shortly.

General Byng's retirement from Bourlon was regarded today as the first precautionary measure for the British to withstand such a shock.

As the British see it, Germany is now at the zenith of her military power. With Russia out of the war, Germany is enabled to draw on increased man power, heretofore held along the Russian lines. She is apparently preparing to throw every ounce of her energy into a supreme attempt at a military victory before arrival of American troops on the fighting line.

On the Bourlon sector there were only two alternatives for General Byng. One was to push ahead and the other was to step backward to a more sure footing. With the Russian situation permitting the enemy to mass great forces on the Cambrai line the backward step seemed the only thing to do. The withdrawal put the British into a much better position to receive the expected attack. It was carried out perfectly—so perfectly that the Germans look foolish in their attacks. The Boches shelled the uninhabited ground and thereabouts for hours and they they attacked in dense masses. Their storming waves found the wood of Bourlon garrisoned only with the dead.

At least 2,000 Germans perished in two violent and fruitless attempts to break British lines around Vial Wood today.

Twenty-five separate German divisions have been identified as composing the enemy's offensive forces in this sector, indicating the Germans have at least 375,000 massed there.

RUSSIAN ARMY IN ROUMANIA AGREES TO AN ARMISTICE

Members of Diplomatic Service Must Accede Bolshevik Power or Resign.

By United Press.

London, December 7.—The Bolshevik committees control the majority of the Russian armies in Roumania, according to word received here today. One division of the sixth army, it was stated, has already signed an armistice. The Russian army in Bukovina on Saturday openly fraternized with their German opponents.

German officers even dined with Russian officers. All Russia's diplomatic officials have been asked whether they support the Bolshevik government peace plan. The alternative as presented in the message received by the Russian ambassador here is dismissal.

25 ENEMY AEROPLANES MAKE RAID OVER KENT

Seven Persons Killed and Twenty-One Injured by Bombs from Air Craft.

London, December 7.—Twenty-five enemy aeroplanes made five simultaneous bombing attacks on Kent and London early to-day. Two machines were forced to the ground and their crews were taken alive.

Lord French announced that the captured crews of the two German machines brought down included three men for each machine. Seven were killed and 21 injured in the raid.

history of this city when the early shopping has been as easy as it is now. The old plan of delaying holiday buying until the last minute and then rush from store to store in a frantic effort to complete in a few hours what ought to have been done in a week is giving way to the saner and more satisfactory plan of buying early so that the last few days can be devoted to the home. Every store in the city has a big pile of Christmas purchases which have been ordered laid away until a few days before December 25. Hundreds and hundreds of other parcels have been purchased and carried home where they will be carefully wrapped and addressed for delivery on Christmas eve or early on Christmas morning.

The local stores were never better prepared for the holiday business than they are this year. The stocks in all lines are big and every want can be supplied by the local merchants. The public has been quick to see that the merchants have such attractive lines and have hastened to make their selections before the stocks are depleted. The dealers have been commended on all sides this year for the attractive decorations of their display windows and stores. This helps to spread the Christmas cheer and the shoppers get the spirit and unconsciously take it home with them. In a few days holly wreaths and Christmas bells will begin to appear in the windows of the residences and before long the little cedar trees will be seen on the porches awaiting the hour when they will be decorated and lighted to the delight of the youngsters.

The merchants have prepared for a big rush during the next two weeks. Many of the stores have employed additional clerks to assist the regular force that the customers may be accommodated as soon as possible. The merchants are pleased that they have such attractive lines to offer this year and are carrying their message directly to the homes through newspaper advertising. Every issue of this paper until the night before Christmas will be filled with interesting Christmas messages and suggestions for the buying public. The people of Seymour have learned to watch for these messages in the Republican and the merchants, too, know that it is the quickest and surest way of reaching the buying public.

Coal and Feed Notice.

I am at present selling the best Indiana lump coal at $4.50 delivered to the town trade, $4.25 at car per ton. I am coming in with two cars of Eastern coal at $6.00 per ton. This is more than the government price but I had this coal bought before the government set the price. These prices are cash at office or on delivery of coal. I also have a full stock of flour and feed at the lowest prices for cash. All persons knowing themselves indebted to me on old accounts, call and settle. If not settled by Jan. 1 I will leave for collection.

FRENCH WARFARE GIVING WAY TO ACTIVE OPERATIONS

Massing of Troops for Violent Attacks Made Possible by Inactivity on Russian Front.

The Secretary of War today authorized the publication of the following review of the military operations for the week ending December 1, 1917:

The outstanding feature of the general military situation today is to be found in the ever-increasing mobility of action of the forces engaged. Static warfare is giving way to activity of movement.

It seems that a decision is being sought by the enemy, who realizes that he can not endure for a much longer period the strain of trench warfare imposed by the allies in the west.

This explains the effort of the central powers in massing considerable forces in order to invade Italy—a concentration of troops made possible by the internal situation in Russia. This offensive was undertaken to crush the Italians and compel them to sue for peace.

Five weeks of desperate fighting has brought them no nearer their real objective in this theater.

The Italian armies suffered serious reverses in the early stages of the battle. They were compelled to give away and for a time the military situation along the Italian front was serious. But the enemy had underestimated the resisting power of the Italians and discounted the splendid morale which their forces would display when the full magnitude of the impending crisis was visualized.

The hoped for revolution in Italy, which had been sedulously fomented by German propagandists and which was an important part of the German plan of invasion, failed to materialize.

The Italians, by a magnificent effort, reorganized their broken forces, rapidly reformed their cadres, and backed by the allies, were able single-handed to check the Austro-German invasion.

It would be futile to underestimate the great losses, both of men and material, suffered by the Italians. These losses should serve to set forth in bolder relief the heroic efforts of those elements of the Italian armies which were able to thwart the plans of the central Empires.

The closing of the Swiss frontier for two weeks may indicate that the enemy is transporting large forces, both men and guns, to the west.

The enemy is constantly detaching large contingents from the eastern theater. All good troops which can possibly be spared are being dispatched to other zones of operations.

So that, though the season is not propitious for engaging in military enterprises on a large scale, yet owing to the imperative necessity for a continuance of this mobility, further offensives are to be anticipated.

On the other hand, the allies will give the enemy no respite, and any offensive undertaken by the Germans will be promptly met by a counter-stroke by greater severity.

FRIDAY MAGAZINE CLUB.

The Friday Magazine Club met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Laura Swope on North Walnut street, to carry out an entertaining program of miscellaneous subjects. The nearness of Christmas was marked, however, by the roll call responses which were quotations from the Bible concerning the coming of Christ.

Previous to the coming of the program Mrs. Ella Winchester Mott, a member of the Seymour Tuesday Club, and the chairman of publicity for the Jackson County Council of Defense, spoke to the club members on the importance of the enrollment of the women for war service. The council has been called upon to assist in locating women who are willing to serve the government as stenographers, as typewriters or to fill any vacancies caused by the reduction of the man-power, and it was with this idea in view that the first movement toward publicity was started among the literary clubs of Jackson county.

Following this, Mrs. Gertrude Whitmer gave an interesting talk on "Science and the Bible" in which she proved the history of civilization by astronomy and other sciences showing wherein they are a parallel. Mrs. Emma Shields next spoke on the achievements of the Red Cross in the present war and in conclusion Mrs. Edith Pfaffenberger read an original story.

THIRD GREAT WAR STORY IN

The Indianapolis Sunday Star, Dec. 9th

The famous author of "Over the Top" tells how he and another American taught the Tommies to play baseball. They started a game with the Canadians and then—but you will have to read it.

OTHER GREAT WAR FEATURES IN THE SUNDAY STAR WILL BE:

An article on the work of the American balloon observers by a captain in the aviation corps.

Edward S. VanZile, now in Europe for The Star, writes on "The World Game of I Spy."

PIMPY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

I am getting into the work now and feel that I really belong here. I surely would like to know what you are doing and whether you are still in Seymour or at the Fort or where. I don't get much news these days as I can't read these Russian papers so I have to rely entirely upon what I can get from the fellows around the bank."

Mr. Heuser explains that this letter has been interrupted several times and when he renewed the writing he says "Was over to the Newsky, which is the big street here, and scouted around to see what I could buy. Found some chocolate and honey. The honey will help down the taste of the bread we have here. Gee, it seems funny to have to dig around to find things to eat.

It Pays to Buy the Best

But every housewife should remember that the best is not always the highest priced. Experience has taught me that you can't always judge quality by the cost sign.

That is particularly true of baking powder. Baking powder quality can be determined only by bake day results. The baking powder that serves you best—regardless of what you pay—is the best to buy and use.

I have made a close study and careful investigation of baking powder, because it is unquestionably one of the most important of baking materials. It effects all ingredients employed with it.

No woman, no matter how careful her selection of flour, sugar, eggs, etc., can employ the limit of baking economy if she uses a poorly made, wasteful baking powder.

Merit, not money, is the only safe basis upon which to estimate the worth of a baking powder. Fortunately the housewife no longer has to conduct costly experiments of her own to determine just which particular brand is the most efficient and economical. Experts like myself, make a business of testing baking powders and accurately arriving at their actual value. We make no mistakes in our decisions as our experiments are made along strictly scientific lines.

Millions of women are now profiting by the aid offered by domestic scientists. I know this to be true—as choice is now centered on the brand of baking powder that I and other domestic scientists have found superior through both chemical and oven tests. It is becoming more popular every day. Its tremendous sales increase was not influenced in the least by cost. It is a moderate priced baking powder. Costs considerably less than some other brands. Still it is preferred by women who could and would pay more were it possible to secure the desired quality. They don't buy this brand of baking powder because of a saving of cost—but because of its demonstrated superiority. To them it means the greatest quality value—the greatest purity—and greatest certainty of results that can be had at any price. Decidedly the best, not because of moderate price, but because of its unimprovable merit.

In justice to those who read this article—that they may share in the savings and baking success assured by the biggest selling and recognized superior baking powder it is no more than fair that I give publicity to the brand preferred alike by experts and America's millions of housewives—Calumet Baking Powder.

Prudence Says So

CHAPTER X.

The End of Fairy.

Now that the twins had attained to the dignity of eighteen years, and were respectable students at the thoroughly respectable Presbyterian college, they had dates very frequently. And it was along about this time that Mr. Starr developed a sudden interest in the evening callers at his home. He bobbed up unannounced in most unexpected places and at most unexpected hours. He walked about the house with a sharp, sly look in his eyes, in a way that could only be described as Carol said, by "downright noisiness." The girls discussed this new phase of his character when they were alone, but decided not to mention it to him, for fear of hurting his feelings. "Maybe he's got a new kind of a sermon up his brain," said Carol. "Maybe he's beginning to realize that his clothes are wearing out again," suggested Lark. "He's too young for second childhood," Connie thought. So they watched him curiously.

Aunt Grace, too, observed this queer devotion on the part of the minister, and finally her curiosity overcame her habit of keeping silent.

"William," she said gently, "what's the matter with you lately? Is there anything on your mind?"

Mr. Starr started nervously. "My mind? Of course not. Why?"

"You seem to be looking for something. You watch the girls so closely, you're always hanging around, and—"

He smiled broadly. "Thanks for that. 'Hanging around,' in my own parsonage. That is the gratitude of a loving family!"

Aunt Grace smiled. "Well, I see there's nothing much the matter with you. I was seriously worried. I thought there was something wrong, and—"

"Sort of mentally unbalanced, is that it? Oh, no, I'm just watching my family."

She looked up quickly. "Watching the family! You mean—"

"Carol," he said briefly.

"Carol! You're watching—"

"Oh, only in the most honorable way, of course. You see," he gave his explanation with an air of relief, "Prudence always says I must keep an eye on Carol. She's so pretty, and the boys get stuck on her, and—that's what Prudence says. I forgot all about it for a while. But lately I have begun to notice that the boys are older, and—we don't want Carol falling in love with the wrong man. I got uneasy. I decided to watch out. I'm the head of this family, you know."

"Such an idea!" scoffed Aunt Grace, who was not at all of a scoffing nature.

"Carol was born for lovers, Prudence says so. And these men's girls have to be watched, or the wrong fellow will get ahead, and—"

"Carol doesn't need watching—not any more at least."

"I'm not really watching her, you know. I'm just keeping my eyes open."

"But Carol's all right. That's one time Prudence was away off." She smiled as she recognized a bit of Carol's slang upon his lips. Don't worry about her. You needn't keep an eye on her any more. She's coming, all right."

"You don't think there's any danger of her falling in love with the wrong man?"

"No."

"There aren't many worth-having fellows in Mount Mark, you know."

"Carol won't fall in love with a Mount Mark fellow."

"You seem very positive."

"Yes, I'm positive."

He looked thoughtful for a while. "Well, Prudence always told me to watch Carol, so I could help her if she needed it."

"Girls always need their fathers," came the quick reply. "But Carol does not need you particularly. There's only one of them who will require special attention."

"That's what Prudence says."

"Yes, just one—not Carol."

"Not Carol!" He looked at her in astonishment. "Why, Fairy and Lark are different. They're all right. They don't need attention."

"No. It's the other one."

"The other one! That's all."

"There's Connie."

"Connie?"

"Yes."

"Connie?"

"Yes."

"You don't mean Connie."

ARM BROKEN BY FALL

Robert Meyer Thrown From Truck
When Crate Breaks.

Robert Meyer, an employee in the local office of the Wells-Fargo Express Company, sustained a fracture of his right arm yesterday when he fell from a truck at the Baltimore & Ohio station while endeavoring to lift a heavy crate. He was standing on the truck and as he started to lift the crate one of the boards broke and he was thrown backwards to the ground. His injury is painful but he is resting as well as could be expected.

Perry Collins has received a letter from Lester McKinney, who accompanied by his wife left several days ago in Mr. Collins' car for Jacksonville, Fla., to spend the winter. He stated that he was just seven days in making the trip which is a little over twelve hundred miles and used fifty-three gallons of gasoline and one gallon of cylinder oil. When he left this city Mr. McKinney had three used tires and one new one on the car. The three used tires stood the trip without a puncture while Mr. McKinney was forced to make several patches to the new one. He reports having had a most delightful trip and is well pleased with the Florida climate. Mr. Collins will leave after the holidays for Florida to spend the remainder of the winter.

FOUR WEEKS IN HOSPITAL

No Relief—Mrs. Brown Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio. — "For years I suffered so sometimes it seemed as though I could not stand it any longer. It was all in my lower organs. At times I could hardly walk, for if I stepped on a little stone I would almost faint. One day I did faint and my husband was sent for and the doctor came. I was taken to the hospital and stayed four weeks but when I came home I would faint just the same and had the same pains."

A friend who is a nurse asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it that very day for I was suffering a great deal. It has already done me more good than the hospital. To anyone who is suffering as I was my advice is to stop in the first drug-store and get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before you go home." — Mrs. W. C. BROWN, 2844 W. 12th St., Cleveland, Ohio.

the Interstate Public Service Company this week will close Saturday night and it is expected that the remainder of the shipment allotted to the company here will be purchased before the salesroom closes tomorrow evening. Charles Roekstroff, of this city, is in charge of the sale. Special inducements are offered this week and it is expected that the price will be advanced at the first of the year on account of the shortage of materials that are used in making the heaters. The claim for the heaters is that they are less expensive than the hot water coils in the furnace. Statistics are produced to show that the coils consume one-fourth more coal while the automatic heaters use fuel only when hot water is desired. A number of the heaters are giving satisfaction in this city.

THE DIFFERENCE IS IN THE TONE

ONE has been the foundation of all things musical since the beginning of time—all except the phonograph. It remained a mechanical device until the development of the Starr.

The science, the art, the theory and the practice of tone production were known to The Starr Piano Company, while the phonograph was yet unthought of. Mechanical ability may be rapidly acquired, but the modern piano was two hundred years in the making. There are two hundred years of tone building back of the 'mechanical superiority of the Starr Phonograph. This is not a mystery to conjure over nor an exaggeration to scoff at—simply a fact we ask to demonstrate to you.
